The Swallows of Monte Cassino - Frederika Randall 2013-10-14

The Strega Prize-winning author of The Girl with a Leica delivers a novel that hinges on one of the bloodiest World War II battles and those who fought it. In this highly original novel, Janeczek retells the four-month-long Battle of Monte Cassino from the point of view of the Maori, Gurkha, Polish, North African, small-town American and other Allied foot soldiers who fought and died under German fire near that 6th century Benedictine abbey. Twined through the battle is another story, a memory of the drowned and the saved in Janeczek's own family in wartime Eastern Europe, where Jews who did not go to Nazi death camps went to Soviet gulag camps, and sometimes survived, and even went on to fight at Monte Cassino. A powerful reflection on all the ways that rights can be taken from us. "Helena Janeczek's novel is this: a tattoo etched on the skin, and not painlessly. A vast design that brings together threads from all the various lives that converged in that legendary battle. The beauty of her tale lies in its structure, the way opposites converge: the chaos of battle and the silence of the defeated, ordinariness and the heroism of the powerless, carefully guarded memory and impetuous youth, the past perpetually intertwined with the present." —Roberto Saviano, author of Gomorra

Is Europe Christian? - Olivier Roy 2020-03-01

As Europe wrangles over questions of national identity, nativism and immigration, Olivier Roy interrogates the place of Christianity, foundation of Western identity. Do secularism and Islam really pose threats to the continent's 'Christian values'? What will be the fate of Christianity in Europe? Rather than repeating the familiar narrative of decline, Roy challenges the significance of secularized Western nations' reduction of Christianity to a purely cultural force- relegated to issues such as abortion, euthanasia and equal marriage. He illustrates that, globally, quite the opposite has occurred: Christianity is now universalized, and detached from national identity. Not only has it taken hold in the Global South, generally in a more socially conservative form than in the West, but it has also 'returned' to Europe, following immigration from former colonies. Despite attempts within Europe to nationalize or even racialize it, Christianity's future is global, non-European and immigrant-as the continent's Churches well know. This short but bracing book confirms Roy's reputation as one of the most acute observers of our times. It represents a persuasive and novel vision of religion's place in national life today.

Histoire D'un Ruisseau - Élisée Reclus Élisée Reclus 2020-07-22

L'histoire d'un ruisseau, même de celui qui naît et se perd dans la mousse, est l'histoire de l'infini. Ces gouttelettes qui scintillent ont traversé le granit, le calcaire et l'argile; elles ont été neige sur la froide montagne, molécule de vapeur dans la nuée, blanche écume sur la crête des flots; le soleil, dans sa course journalière, les a fait resplendir des reflets les plus éclatants; la pâle lumière de la lune les a vaguement irisées; la foudre en a fait de l'hydrogène et de l'oxygène, puis d'un nouveau choc a fait ruisseler en eau ces éléments primitifs. Tous les agents de l'atmosphère et de l'espace, toutes les forces cosmiques ont travaillé de concert à modifier incessamment l'aspect et la position de la gouttelette imperceptible; elle aussi est un monde comme les astres énormes qui roulent dans les cieux, et son orbite se développe de cycle en cycle par un mouvement sans repos.

Tanegashima - The Arrival of Europe in Japan - Olof G. Lidin 2003-12-16

The year 1543 marked the beginning of a new global consciousness in Japan with the arrival of shipwrecked Portuguese merchants on Tanegashima Island in southern Japan. Other Portuguese soon followed and Japan became aware of a world beyond India. After the merchants came the first missionary Francis Xavier in 1549, beginning the Christian century in Japan. This is not a new story, but it is the first time that Japanese, Portuguese and other European accounts have been brought together and presented in English. Their arrival was recorded by the Japanese in Tanegashima kafu, the Teppoki and the Kunitomo teppoki, here translated and presented together with European reports. Includes maps, and Portuguese and Japanese illustrations.

Shop Talk - Philip Roth 2001-09-25

The legendary author's essays and interviews explore how fellow writers from Milan Kundera to Edna O'Brien are influenced by time, place, and politics. Writers are often deeply influenced by the time and place in which they live and write. In Shop Talk, Philip Roth, winner of a National Book Award, a Pulitzer Prize, and numerous other literary honors, explores the intimate relationship a writer's experience has with his or her work. In a series of essays, Roth recounts his intellectual encounters with writers, discussing with them the diverse regions from which they hail and pondering the influence of locale, politics, and history on their work. Featuring luminaries such as Milan Kundera discussing Czechoslovakia; Primo Levi talking about Auschwitz; Edna O'Brien reflecting on Ireland; Isaac Bashevis Singer tackling Warsaw; Aharon Appelfeld on Bukovina; and Ivan Klíma on Prague, Roth's conversations touch on the conditions that inspire great art, with artists as attuned to the subtleties of their societies as they are the nuances of words. Also including a portrait of Bernard Malamud, a written exchange with Mary McCarthy about Roth's The Counterlife, and the essay "Rereading Saul Bellow," Shop Talk is a "fascinating [glimpse] of some of the deans of postwar literature" (Los Angeles Times Book Review).

Screening Ethnicity - Anna Camaiti Hostert 2002

Literary Nonfiction. Film Studies. Remarkable for the variety and sophistication of the approaches that it brings to its subject matter, SCREENING ETHNICITY makes a powerful argument for the validity, indeed the necessity, of Italian American cinema as an object of study. By including the concepts of race, gender, and social class along with the more obvious themes of identity and ethnicity, this collection sheds new light on the careers of Frank Capra, Francis Ford Coppola, Michael Cimino, Martin Scorsese, Quentin Tarantino, and the recently canonized David Chase, while calling attention to the achievements of such lesser known figures as Abel Ferrara, Stanley Tucci, Mariarosy Calleri, and Nancy Savoca. "It comes as no surprise that there is so much smart thinking and writing contained in this book" Bill Tonelli, Rolling Stone.

On the Problem of Empathy - Waltraut Stein 2013-12-11

The Dogs of the Sinai - Franco Fortini 2013

"Fortini/Cani" presents Fortini reading excerpts from his book, focusing on his alienation from Judaism and social relations, the rise of fascism in Italy, and the anti-Arab attitude of European culture. The Italian landscape provides a backdrop that highlights the meaning of the text.

Mediated Ethnicity - Giuliana Muscio 2010

This collection offers a fresh re-reading and re-imagining of Italian Americans in film, from actors to directors, from subject to agency. The trans-Atlantic discourse that emerges from these keenly insightful essays offers a guidepost for future analyses. As we come to understand the evolving paradigm of Italian Americans, whose cinematic representation has long been object of discussion and debate, Mediated Ethnicity constitutes a prismatic lens through which the contemporary viewer/reader may re-discover the cultural positioning of Italians in America. - John Tintori Associate Arts Professor and Chair, Graduate Film Program New York University Tisch School of the Arts

New Worlds, Lost Worlds - Susan Brigden 2002-09-24

No period in British history has more resonance and mystery today than the sixteenth century. New Worlds, Lost Worlds brings the atmosphere and events of this great epoch to life. Exploring the underlying religious motivations for the savage violence and turbulence of the period—from Henry VIII's break with Rome to the overwhelming threat of the Spanish Armada—Susan Brigden investigates the actions and influences of such near-mythical figures as Elizabeth I, Thomas More, Bloody Mary, and Sir Walter Raleigh. Authoritative and accessible, New Worlds, Lost Worlds, the latest in the Penguin History of Britain series, provides a superb introduction to one of the most important, compelling, and intriguing periods in the history of the Western world.

Infiltration - Yehoshu'a Kenaz 2003

Young Israeli Army conscripts with minor disabilities, such as heart murmurs and epilepsy, are sent for basic training. Some come from large cities, some from kibbutzim; some were born in the land that would become Israel, some are new immigrants from Eastern Europe or Arab countries. Set in the 1950's when Israel had been a nation for just a few years and its very existence was under constant threat, Infiltration tells the story of one platoon's experience, a group of soldiers who represent all Israelis, their hopes and ideals, their struggles and deep internal divisions. Melabbes is determined to stay separate, self-contained from the rigid routines and power plays of military life. Avner is a reckless romantic whose mother worked for the families of the wealthier, Ashkenazi recruits known as "the Jerusalemites." Alon is a proud and patriotic kibbutznik; Miller, a German survivor of the concentration camps; and Micky, a famous soccer player who only recently discovered his physical defect, a heart murmur. Though Infiltration is set in a time and place some fifty years in the past, it is a universal story of loss of innocence, a monumental novel that exposes the darker side of the military process of making men out of boys.

Open Issues in European Central Banking - L. Smaghi 2000-01-04

With the start of EMU, the Eurosystem has taken over monetary policy for the 11 countries of the Euro-area. But the division of powers within the Eurosystem, between the European Central Bank and the constituent National Central Banks, is not satisfactory. This volume provides an analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of the Eurosystem and offers concrete proposals concerning the decision-making organs, balance sheets and the distribution of seigniorage.

Censorship and Literature in Fascist Italy - Guido Bonsaver 2007-01-01

The history of totalitarian states bears witness to the fact that literature and print media can be manipulated and made into vehicles of mass deception. Censorship and Literature in Fascist Italy is the first comprehensive account of how the Fascists attempted to control Italy's literary production. Guido Bonsaver looks at how the country's major publishing houses and individual authors responded to the new cultural directives imposed by the Fascists. Throughout his study, Bonsaver uses rare and previously unexamined materials to shed light on important episodes in Italy's literary history, such as relationships between the regime and particular publishers, as well as individual cases involving renowned writers like Moravia, Da Verona, and Vittorini. Censorship and Literature in Fascist Italy charts the development of Fascist censorship laws and practices, including the creation of the Ministry of Popular Culture and the anti-Semitic crack-down of the late 1930s. Examining the breadth and scope of censorship in Fascist Italy, from Mussolini's role as 'prime censor' to the specific experiences of female writers, this is a fascinating look at the vulnerability of culture under a dictatorship.

Stabilità finanziaria, unione bancaria europea e costituzione - SALMONI FIAMMETTA 2019-06-27

La crisi economico-finanziaria iniziata negli Stati Uniti nel 2007 ha rapidamente contagiato banche e Stati membri dell'Unione europea. Per farvi fronte, le Istituzioni sovranazionali hanno inseguito l'emergenza, adottando tre macro misure, tutte volte a garantire la stabilità finanziaria, il super valore che si affianca al dogma del libero mercato, cui si devono ispirare le politiche nazionali ed europee: il principio del pareggio di bilancio, la sottoscrizione del trattato MES e l'istituzione dell'Unione bancaria europea. In tale contesto, normativo e giurisprudenziale, questo saggio dopo aver ripercorso le tappe che hanno portato alla politica dell'austerità, esamina l'istituzione dell'Unione bancaria europea, approfondendo, in particolare, la risoluzione bancaria e l'istituto del bail in, analizzandone i profili di dubbia costituzionalità, relativi al principio di uguaglianza, al diritto di proprietà, alla tutela del risparmio e alla tutela giurisdizionale. Ciò che assume maggiore rilievo, naturalmente, è la violazione dei diritti fondamentali sanciti dalla Costituzione, che esigerebbero di azionare la teoria dei controlimiti, a garanzia dei grandi principi di civiltà giuridica di ogni sistema democratico del nostro tempo.

The Mediterranean in the Ancient World - Fernand Braudel 2002-04-25

This general reader's history of the ancient mediterranean combines a thorough grasp of the scholarship of the day with an great historian's gift for imaginative reconstruction and inspired analogy. Extensive notes allow the reader to appreciate the state of scholarship at the time of writing, the scale and breadth of Braudel's learning and the points where orthodoxy has changed, sometimes vindicating Braudel, sometimes proving him wrong. Above all the book offers us the chance to situate Braudel's mediterranean, born of a lifetime's love and knowledge, more clearly in the climates of the sea's history.

Perché l'Europa - Antonio Padoa-Schioppa 2018-12-27

L'Unione europea è come una cattedrale incompiuta. Questo dialogo ha lo scopo di far capire cosa sia in gioco in questi mesi - per l'Italia, per l'Europa e non solo - con l'elezione europea del 2019. Occorre essere consapevoli di quanto del nostro futuro dipenda dalle scelte che saranno compiute dall'Italia e dall'Unione europea. Soprattutto i giovani, che in maggioranza sono favorevoli alla prospettiva europea, sono e saranno chiamati a svolgere un ruolo che potrà risultare decisivo.

The End of the Tether - Joseph Conrad 2011-01-01

Ranked by critics and literary experts as one of the most important English writers, Joseph Conrad contributed to the Western canon with such masterpieces as Heart of Darkness and Lord Jim. A master of intricate psychological portraiture, Conrad brings this skill to bear in "The End of the Tether," a story about an elderly man's attempt to come to grips with his own mortality.

Silk (Movie Tie-in Edition) - Alessandro Baricco 2008-12-10

The year is 1861. Hervé Joncour is a French merchant of silkworms, who combs the known world for their gemlike eggs. Then circumstances compel him to travel farther, beyond the edge of the known, to a country legendary for the quality of its silk and its hostility to foreigners: Japan. There Joncour meets a woman. They do not touch; they do not even speak. And he cannot read the note she sends him until he has returned to his own country. But in the moment he does, Joncour is possessed.

Austerity - Lorenzo Bini Smaghi 2013-10-29

The crisis in the eurozone has had a dramatic impact on the economic and social fabric of European countries. However, the economic dimension is only the symptom of a broader problem. The crisis is primarily political in nature. Lorenzo Bini Smaghi argues in this book that the crisis reflects the inability of western democracies to solve problems that have been building for over two decades. He finds that democratically elected officials are loathe to take unpopular decisions that could jeopardize their reelection. Emergency thus becomes the engine of political action, and the justification for corrective measures vis-à-vis the voters. As a consequence, the cure in the form of austerity, administered belatedly under pressure from the markets, becomes even more painful and unpopular, giving rise to populist movements and endangering democracy itself.
